KOMET WITH A NEW WEBSITE IN 2008!

2008 at KOMET will start with a very particular innovation. At the beginning of the year the brand-new homepage will be online, it will offer you a lot. The website of KOMET is currently completely revised, restructured and adapted to the modified requirements. This will have not only optical effects, but mainly also effects with regards to the contents. The homepage will become much more user-friendly, contain more information and should hopefully become a useful tool to our partners in their daily business. With the improved menu navigation you can access to a lot of important information about KOMET and its machines with just a click. This includes short videos about applications as well as PDF for download, but also useful information about the topic vacuum packing in general. News about product novelties, trade fairs, etc. will round up the offer and also a regularly updated dealer area will be available.

But we do not want to give away too much information. Just look forward to our new homepage in 2008. Of course, we will inform you in due time and present the new features in detail.

IN 2008

DO YOU ALREADY KNOW OUR MODELL SPRINTER? A TOP CLASS THERMOFORMING MACHINE!

At the IFFA it had been presented for the first time live to a large audience and has already caught great attention of many customers. We are talking about the new SPRINTER, which allows KOMET to offer a very cost-efficient thermoforming machine for the medium sized businesses which can also be installed in small rooms. It is an absolute novelty in this area since with its length of only 2.6 m it is much smaller than any other machine on the market. Due to an extremely large loading area you can work very efficiently – also when several persons are working on it at the same time. Three complete openings are available to load the products. Among other features, the SPRINTER is working about 5 times quicker than a chamber machine. Thanks to the Vario tool, the machine can furthermore be used customized for different products. The price is also an important sales argument. The SPRINTER is not only unbeatably cost-efficient with the purchase, but also when it operates!
